The Internet Kids & Family Yellow Pages is a must own for every parent, librarian, teacher and net-ready kid. The selections and descriptions invite exploration. The Web introduction and problem-solving section is well done. Newbies and old timers alike will reach for this resource often. I certainly do. And Jean's companion web site makes this the most up-to-date directory possible.

This is the most complete family website listing publication I've ever come across! This book has opened more doors for my son and me than I could have ever imagined! We have both made many contacts -- for business and pleasure! Great resource!
